Unplanned pregnancy? Considering adoption? It's 3 AM? Full Circle will be there.

Unplanned pregnancies are often overwhelming for the expectant parent(s) and extended families. Our Social Work team is committed to helping everyone cope with the emotions that naturally arise. We offer support 24-7, including hospital visits.

We inform and support, providing neutral and confidential counseling

We follow the expectant parents' lead and we support the expectant parents in taking steps toward their chosen goal

We are available to help facilitate communication with extended families as well as prospective adoptive families if desired

We can provide assistance with allowable pregnancy related expenses

We're here for all parents in the years ahead - our commitment continues beyond the birth of the baby

If a parent chooses, she/he can stay in touch with the adoptive family and child over the years

“Adopting our son has been the most wonderful experience for our family. He has given us more joy than we could ever describe on paper... Thanks to the work that Full Circle did with our son’s birthparents and us to make the adoption such a positive experience, we can give him the gift of having met them and our wonderful memories of that time”. - Ashley & Matt
Adoptive Parents

Full Circle’s team is available to provide in-service trainings for your staff. Please let us know what educational programming might meet the needs of your office. If there is an adoption-related topic you’d like covered that isn’t listed here, please just let us know.

“From the very beginning of this process, George and Jessica as well as their families have always made me feel like I am just another extension of the family and have included me as a part of the baby’s life. I have had the pleasure of watching him grow over the past two years into a very lovable, intelligent, well-cared for, secure toddler who is far above a lot of his peers and I believe that is due to WELL I have to say Good Genes of course but also the loving, secure environment of an absolutely awesome “adoptive” family who as stated before is this grandmother’s dream come true”. - Jorja, Birth Grandmother

We understand that expectant parents and prospective adoptive parents often feel a mixture of anxiety and anticipation. Please know that we are here to assist you in making decisions that are right for you as you consider adoption. We believe strongly that this is your life and that the Agency's role is to educate, guide and assist. Ultimately, the choices you make, whether to place or parent (for birthparents), whether to pursue one or another route to adoption (for adoptive parents) are keenly personal choices. We will provide you assistance on your path and do not presume to know what's best for you.
