If considering adoption, Full Circle is a great agency to explore. They provide services that are extremely helpful in the adoption process. A counselor is available 24/7 to answer questions. They advise you on the process of adoption, and do not pressure you in any way to ultimately choose adoption. With Full Circle, you're able to choose to interview the couples you think are the best fit for your child. You are able to meet with different couples and talk to them in person or by phone. After the adoption is finalized, if you choose, you can receive updates on your child's progress (and request visits if that's something you want).

Full Circle provided me with an excellent adoption experience. I had been thinking about adoption and did some research online. I came across Full Circle and was impressed by the adoptive family letters. They were very insightful. I chose a couple and decided to meet them prior to making my decision. I was happy with the couple and knew that my son would be in good hands. Throughout the process, my counselor was available to me whenever I needed her. I was working full time and many agencies are not open past 5 PM. So, if you think that you will not be able to reach someone, you can. I would call her on the weekends and during evening hours. This never seemed to be a problem, and she was always able to answer my questions.

"We are very grateful for the work that Marla and the team at A Full Circle Adoptions does, and for the integrity and respect they offer. There are no words good enough to describe the quality of care from this agency."
- Julie, Adoptive Mom

I had a very successful experience with A Full Circle Adoptions. I had gone through two other agencies before finding Full Circle. We had initial meetings with the agency's social worker, and were provided information about adoption, including our rights. They also reviewed our needs in-depth. Marla was very helpful with arranging the meetings with the couples and wonderfully supportive in my choice of adoptive parents. I am very happy with the end result. The adoptive couple I chose could not be more perfect for my baby boy. Finding Full Circle was my destiny. I am so happy they were there for me every step of the way.
